Global Macro

Escalation risk will keep prices elevated

By EG Energy, Climate & Resources, Gregory Brew

While Middle East flows have surged to prewar levels, prices remain high due to expectations of escalation.

Beijing tightens grip on AI exports without closing the diffusion door

By EG Geo-technology, Xiaomeng Lu, Heather West, et al.

China's AI export controls put a license between Chinese models and foreign users, with carve-outs built to keep open-weight releases and API delivery flowing. Enforcement will start light, but licensing requirements give Beijing control and foreign adopters a reason to hesitate.
