

BRICS Summit

送信者: EG Events 受信日時: 2026-09-02 04:45

【メール原文】

Please join Eurasia Group to discuss the outlook for the 18th BRICS Summit taking place in New Delhi on September 12-13. Panelists: Marc Gustafson, Ma|||||||

Upcoming Conference Call

BRICS Summit

Please join Eurasia Group to discuss the outlook for the 18th BRICS Summit taking place in New Delhi on September 12-13. Panelists: Marc Gustafson, Managing Director of Analysis David Meale, Practice Head, China Primit Chaudhuri, Practice Head, South Asia Julia Thomson, Analyst, Brazil Clients on the call will have the opportunity to ask questions during the conversation through a moderated Q&A.

Thursday, 3 September at 11:00 am EDT / 8:00 am PDT / 12:00 pm BRT / 4:00 pm BST / 7:00 pm Dubai

Submit questions in advance here .

Topics:

- * BRICS' approach to Iran, UAE, and Saudi Arabia
- * Dollar dependence, digital payments/currency, and trade facilitation
- * What to expect from President Xi at the Summit

RSVP

Speakers

Marc Gustafson

Managing Director, Analysis

+1 202.540.5144

gustafson@eurasiagroup.net

About Marc Gustafson

Marc Gustafson is the managing director of analysis at Eurasia Group. He brings over two decades of national security and intelligence experience to the role. Prior to joining Eurasia Group, Marc served in multiple high-level roles at the White House under presidents Barack Obama, Donald Trump (twice), and Joe Biden. He was the head of the White House Situation Room, the White House chief of intelligence, and the senior director for Africa. Marc also spent 15 years at the CIA as a senior manager and analyst. Marc holds an undergraduate degree from New York University and graduate degrees from Oxford University, where he was a Marshall Scholar. Outside of work, Marc enjoys playing basketball with his teenage sons and helping maintain the hiking and biking trails near his home along the Potomac River in Washington, DC.

David Meale

Practice Head, China

2025405135

Meale@eurasiagroup.net

About David Meale

David Meale leads Eurasia Group's China practice, advising global clients on strategic, economic, and political developments related to China. Before joining Eurasia Group, David spent over thirty years in the US Foreign Service, including thirteen years in Greater China. His most recent overseas role was deputy chief of mission in Beijing, where he managed operations for the US embassy and four consulates. David also served in deputy assistant secretary roles in trade and sanctions at the US Department of State, and he held senior posts in China, Bangladesh, and Ukraine. Prior to his diplomatic career, Meale worked in corporate finance for Sprint Telecommunications' international division. David holds a master's degree in national resource strategy from the National Defense University, a master's in business administration from Tulane University, and a bachelor's degree in international relations from the University of Delaware. He lives in Northern Virginia with his wife Lisa, and on weekends you are likely to find him with one of his adult sons wandering nearby hiking trails with Penelope, his adopted street dog from Beijing.

Pramit Chaudhuri

Practice Head, South Asia

chaudhuri.ne@eurasiagroup.net

About Pramit Chaudhuri

As practice head for South Asia, Pramit focuses on the interface of politics, economics, and foreign policy in India and neighboring countries. He was a journalist for three decades, two of them as foreign editor of the Hindustan Times. He has also worked as a consultant for the Rhodium Group and BowerGroupAsia. From 2011-2015, Pramit served on the National Security Advisory Board of two Indian prime ministers. He continues to be an advisor to several New Delhi-based think tanks including the Ananta Aspen Centre, the Council for Energy Environment and Water, and the Shakti Sustainable Energy Foundation. On behalf of India's Aspen Strategy Group, Pramit is active in track two diplomacy between India and the US, Japan, China, and Israel. In addition to in his native India, Pramit has lived in Ethiopia, Liberia, the UK, and the US. He has traveled to 40 other countries. A graduate of Cornell University, he has been a fellow at the Fletcher School, the University of Maryland College Park, the Henry Stimson Center, and the Asia Society New York. Among Pramit's disused skills are a talent for graphic design, which helped pay his way through college, and milking cows, learned as a summer farmhand in Vermont.

Julia Thomson

Analyst, Brazil

thomson@eurasiagroup.net

About Julia Thomson

Based in Brasilia, Julia leads the foreign policy and trade agenda in the Eurasia Group Brazil team. Prior to joining Eurasia Group, Julia worked with various diplomatic missions in Brasilia, including the European Union delegation, as well as with other well-known local consulting firms. Julia holds both a bachelor's and a postgraduate degree in political science and public policy from the University of Brasilia, where she also conducted part of her research at PUC-Chile in Santiago. Her academic research primarily focused on policy and development issues within the Latin American region. With a family background in Brazil and Australia, Julia is a native speaker of Portuguese and English, and she is also fluent in Spanish.

How to Join

Please note this invitation is non-transferrable and space is limited.

Registration for this event is required.

After registering, you will receive an email with instructions to join the meeting, including local dial-in information and a meeting invitation you can add to your calendar. Please note you must be logged in from a computer or mobile app in order to ask a question.

Please allow a few minutes before the call to join the meeting, and connect audio by following the prompts from the conference call platform.