

From Washington to Tokyo: US policy, the midterms, and global market risks

送信者: EG Events 受信日時: 2026-08-05 22:33

【メール原文】

Please join Eurasia Group analysts to discuss the political and economic outlook for the US. There will be an opportunity to ask questions following the presentation.

Upcoming Conference Call

From Washington to Tokyo: US policy, the midterms, and global market risks

Please join Eurasia Group analysts to discuss the political and economic outlook for the US. There will be an opportunity to ask questions following the presentation.

Thursday, 6 August at 6:00 pm PDT / 9:00 pm EDT

Friday, 7 August at 9:00 am SGT / 10:00 am JST / 11:00 am AEST

Submit questions in advance here .

Topics:

- * The shifting outlook on the US midterms
- * Pre-midterm policy: Iran strategy, China summit, tariffs, and more
- * US economic outlook and a more hawkish Fed
- * Yen volatility and intervention risk: Key watchpoints

RSVP

Speakers

Noah Daponte-Smith

Senior Analyst, United States

daponte-smith@eurasiagroup.net

About Noah Daponte-Smith

Noah Daponte-Smith is a senior analyst on Eurasia Group's United States team, primarily covering US electoral politics and voter sentiment. He holds a PhD from the Department of Government at Harvard University and a BA from Yale University.

Robert Kahn

Managing Director, Global Macro

+1 202.903.0011

kahn@eurasiagroup.net

About Robert Kahn

Robert's research focuses on macroeconomic policies and the transmission of shocks throughout the global economy. For much of his career he has also studied the resolution of sovereign debt crises and financial distress, including the role of debt restructuring. Prior to joining Eurasia Group, Robert was an economic consultant and adjunct professor at Johns Hopkins University. Before that, he was a senior fellow for international economics at the Council on Foreign Relations, a senior strategist with Moore Capital Management, and a senior adviser in the financial policy department at the World Bank, where he focused on financial sector assessments for developing economies and was the bank's liaison to the secretariat of the Financial Stability Forum. Robert has also held senior staff positions at the IMF and at Citigroup; he served as the head of the Office of Industrial Nations at the US Treasury and was a senior economist on the Council of Economic Advisers and the Federal Reserve Board. Robert received a bachelor's degree from the University of Chicago and a doctorate from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Jeremy Chan

Senior Analyst, China & Northeast Asia

chan@eurasiagroup.net

About Jeremy Chan

Jeremy Chan is a senior analyst on the China and Northeast Asia team at Eurasia Group. He focuses on Japan, the Korean Peninsula, and China's foreign policy, helping clients navigate political, economic, and security risks across northeast Asia. Jeremy previously spent a decade in East Asia, including as a US diplomat with tours in China and Japan, and with the SK Group in China and South Korea. Jeremy also worked for The Tony Blair Institute for Global Change in the Middle East, where he led a team of analysts in providing policy recommendations to senior government stakeholders. Jeremy holds a master's degree in China and Korea studies from the Johns Hopkins University's School of Advanced International Studies, including a year at the Hopkins-Nanjing Center, and a bachelor's degree in comparative literature from Princeton University.

How to Join

Please note this invitation is non-transferrable and space is limited.

Registration for this event is required.

After registering, you will receive an email with instructions to join the meeting, including local dial-in information and a meeting invitation you can add to your calendar. Please note you must be logged in from a computer or mobile app in order to ask a question.

Please allow a few minutes before the call to join the meeting, and connect audio by following the prompts from the conference call platform.