

Daily Research Summary - Aug 3rd, 2026

送信者: Eurasia Group 受信日時: 2026-08-04 08:36

【メール原文】

Your daily summary of the latest Eurasia Group research, curated for you.|||||||

Your daily research summary

Customize Email Preferences

Aug 3rd, 2026

Global Macro

Red Sea and Hormuz conflicts combine to keep prices high

By EG Energy, Climate & Resources, Gregory Brew

While the US backed away from escalation for the second weekend in a row, the continued risk of more intense violence will keep prices in a $75-$95 per barrel band for Brent.

Access full content

Sector Coverage

US's July tariff overhaul hits Brazil hardest

By EG Geoeconomics, Lucy Eve, Jack Cumberlidge, et al.

Recently imposed forced labor and Brazil tariffs only marginally increase the overall US tariff rate, with Brazil losing the most and the EU, Taiwan, and the UK among the winners.

Access full content

Government underfunding will keep Open RAN marginal, benefiting Huawei

By EG Geo-technology, Carisa Nietzsche, Scott Bade

As governments fail to resource Open Radio Access Networks (Open RAN) sufficiently, Open RAN deployments are likely to remain limited, and Huawei stands to gain.

Access full content

© Eurasia Group. All rights reserved. This material was produced by Eurasia Group for use by the recipient. This is intended as general background research and is not intended to constitute advice on any particular commercial investment or trade matter or issue and should not be relied upon for such purposes. It is not to be made available to any person other than the recipient. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or otherwise, without the prior consent of Eurasia Group.

Opt Out | Customize Email Preferences